LANGKAT ANNUAL MEETING.

GOOD QUALITY OF TIMBERS REPORTED.

The annual general meeting of the Langkat Co. was held at Shanghai on March 31st, at the offices of Messrs. Geo. McBain, the general agents. Mr. R. S. F. McBain presided and was supported by Mr. John Prentice.

The Chairman said: In speaking last year of the accounts I drew attention to the fact that the item sundry assets in the balance sheet had been reduced during the year we were then reviewing by about Tls. 100,000, and I said that we hoped to see them still further reduced during the year on which we had then entered. In this we were disappointed, as the result of the shipment of drilling tools and machinery which we made to America turned out less satisfactory than we expected and I am afraid that we cannot now hope to get much of a return for it as a good deal of the machinery is obsolete and low prices will have to be taken for it.

Timber at Tls. 203,530.91 is made up of the plant and machinery in Sumatra and at our factory here, as well as considerable stocks of cut timber in both places.

I am sorry to say that the oil and sundry working account still shows a loss. There is, however, a considerable saving in the expenses generally. As the report says, the expenditure on oil was reduced to a minimum during the second half of our financial year. It may seem strange perhaps that, as we have given up the exploitation of the oil field ourselves, there should be any expense to speak of in this account, but I want you to bear in mind what we say in the report about a good deal of the expenditure being on account of various concessions which the company owns and which your directors do not think it advisable to give up. The foreign and native staff account and the quit rent and general charges are all considerably more than they would be but for this fact. Until we are able to dispose of some of our lands and our 'Mar-tapoera' Concessions in Borneo these accounts cannot be much further reduced. There are certain expenses in connection with the foreign and native staff as well as the rents which must be incurred as long as we hold these lands. This we would recommend should be done as we are convinced that they are of considerable value.

LOSSES ON TIMBER REDUCED.

There is one other item in the working account to which I would draw your attention, and that is the loss on timber which has been reduced from Tls. 31,483.56 last year to Tls. 2,350.62. This small loss is rather disappointing, as we had hoped to have been in a position to show a profit from this source. Our installation at our timber yard in Ward Road is now nearing completion and we shall soon be well equipped and able to turn out material of a very high class with which, in the opinion of our manager, we can supply the building trade in Shanghai and the outports.

Our Damarlaut and Marbau woods are of excellent quality, and we shall soon have continuous supplies for doors, window-frames, staircases, flooring, etc. If any of our shareholders are thinking of building either houses or offices, I hope they will ask their architect to specify that Langkat Damarlaut or Marbau only is to be used by the contractors for the better class of work. We have in view several large contracts at the present time.

OIL PROSPECTS.

On the Darat oilfield there has been no drilling done during the last year, but preparations are being made by the Batavia Petroleum Maatschappij (which is the company that does the field work of the A.P.C. group) to do some deep drilling there and we shall look forward with a great deal of interest to the results. The average production for the year under review was 19 tons daily against 21 tons the year before. During the year an agreement was made with the Batavia Petroleum Maatschappij under which the Tandjong Slamet concession has been transferred to them to work on the following royalty basis:—Fl. 5 per ton pure crude oil as long as the total production of the concession Tandjong Slamet does not exceed 10,000 tons per annum; Fl. 4 per ton over a further yearly production of 5,000 tons or part thereof; Fl. 3 per ton on a further production of 5,000 tons or part thereof; and Fl. 2.50 on a yearly production for as far as this exceeds the 20,000 tons. They propose to spend a considerable sum on making a thorough geological survey to ascertain whether it is worth working or not. This survey will probably be commenced during this year.

PROFIT ON RUBBER.

The profit of Tls. 108,004.36 on the rubber working account may, I think, be considered as satisfactory under the circumstances, as during several months of our financial year prices ruling were very low. With the prices which have been obtained during the first five months of our present year beginning on November 1st, and the present prospect for the future, I think we may look forward to a good return this year on our rubber account. Our estimate for the current year is 1,000,000 lb. No forward sales have been made. Our estates have continued to be managed very ably and our visiting agent reports everything in first-rate order.

THE RESOLUTIONS.

There were no questions, and the following resolutions were formally carried: That the report and accounts, as presented, be passed—Proposed by the Chairman, seconded by Mr. Prentice. That Mr. Prentice be re-elected a director of the company—Proposed by Mr. W. G. Pirie, seconded by Mr. K. H. Martin. That Mr. Barendsen be re-elected a director of the company—Proposed by Mr. Pirie, seconded by Mr. E. Hayim. That Messrs. Lowe, Bingham & Matthews be re-elected auditors for the ensuing year—Proposed by Mr. Hayim, seconded by Mr. Martin.

SINGAPORE BASE HONGKONG'S GIFT.

Following is the full report of the reference made in the House of Commons on March 4th to Hongkong's gift:

Mr. Amery, Secretary of State for the Colonies, Birmingham (Sparkbrook), replying to Mr. Duff Cooper (Oldham, U.), said Hongkong had generously offered as a contribution toward the cost of the Singapore base a gift of £250,000, representing the profits made by the Colony out of the local scheme of shipping control during the war. (Cheers.) This gift had been most gratefully accepted by his Majesty's Government. The generous offer of the Straits Settlements to provide the necessary land still held good. The site had been acquired at a cost of $1,250,000 (£146,000) and would be handed over as required.

Mr. Hardie (Glasgow, Springburn, U.) asked the Foreign Secretary if the Government anticipated that the Four Power Treaty, which provides means for peaceful adjustment of questions arising between the Pacific Powers, would not be renewed in 1931, and if the present safeguards were now considered adequate by the Government.

Mr. A. Chamberlain: I am unable to anticipate a decision which will be taken in regard to a question arising until the 1931, i.e., ten years from the date of the deposit of ratifications, but nothing has so far occurred to suggest to me any doubt as to its value or to foreshadow its non-renewal. I am not clear as to the meaning of the last part of the question, but if the hon. member is referring to safeguards for peace, the Government believe that the Treaty will facilitate the peaceful settlement of any difference that may arise between the signatories.

Mr. Hardie asked, whether, considering that the Washington Agreement for restricting armaments made war in the Pacific very unlikely during the next seven years, it would not be better to maintain the status quo rather than invite war by going on with the Singapore base.

Mr. Chamberlain: Singapore is not proposed as a means of waging war, either defensive or offensive but as a necessary link in Imperial communications. Mr. Hardie said while that might be the opinion of members on the Government benches it must be remembered that other people had interests in the Pacific who did not share that view. It was the difference in the point of view that led to war.

Mr. Chamberlain: Yes, that is exactly why the hon. gentleman should be very careful as to the colour he gives to these unfriendly suggestions. (Ministerial cheer.)

Lord Curzon's reference to the Gift in the House of Lords was embodied in a general reference to the willingness of the Dominions to contribute towards the expense of creating the base. He said: "Hongkong offered £250,000, the profits made by them out of shipping control during the war. The announcement was greeted with the interjection, 'Hear, hear.'"

SHANGHAI SENSATION.

MR. KENTWELL CHARGES CHINESE WITH BLACKMAIL.

When the case came before Mr. Martin and Magistrate Zau at the Mixed Court, Shanghai, on March 30th, in which Mr. L. K. Kentwell charged three Chinese with blackmailing him the Assessor said he had come to the conclusion the case must be adjourned till proceedings were concluded in the British Court.

Counsel argued the subject of bail and the Assessor, giving his decision, said the Court were of opinion that as the accused were resident outside the Settlement, it was possible that they might not turn up to take their trial at the second hearing. They would adjourn for a special hearing, fixing bail at $30,000 each. He added that on a previous occasion where a Chinese assistant had been given bail they had never seen the man since.

Addressing the Court earlier in the hearing, Mr. W. S. Fleming, who defended the accused, suggested that at the back of the whole thing was an attempt to deflect the attention of the Court from the proceedings at the British Court. Kentwell was himself charged, and then suddenly turned round and charged these people with blackmailing, or rather attempting to blackmail him. He would also suggest that the accused were trapped into making the offer described.

SHANGHAI RUSSIANS.

POVERTY DOES NOT PREVENT INTOXICATION.

Examples of the shifts to which destitute Russians in Shanghai may resort in order to live, were provided at the Mixed Court, Shanghai, on March 31st.

A Russian Jew named Isaac Muller was charged with the attempted theft of a length of silk. It was stated that the accused in company with two other Russians entered a shop in Kiukiang Road, and said he wanted to see some silk. The three men were shown the silk, but said it was not good enough. While the assistant's back was turned and as he was getting a better quality, accused tried to hide the silk under his coat. He was seen, however, and the police were communicated with. Defendant appeared to be drunk.

H. Cobilina, a Russian woman, was sentenced to two weeks' imprisonment for being drunk and disorderly and begging. A foreign constable told the Court that he was on duty on the Bund when a number of foreign ladies complained to him that a Russian woman was begging him for money, and using filthy language when he was not giving anything. When he saw defendant she was drunk she could hardly stand. She was using very bad language.

V.R.C. PRESENTATION.

MR. A. MCKIRDY LEAVING FOR HOME.

Among the passengers leaving for Home by the s.s. "Albatross" to-morrow is Mr. A. McKirdy, who is retiring after nearly 30 years' service with the Taikoo Sugar Refinery.

Mr. McKirdy arrived in Hongkong on June 29th 1894, on a three years' contract with Messrs. John Swire & Sons, Billiter Square, London. Agents for the Taikoo Sugar Refinery. At the end of his first contract, Mr. McKirdy was re-engaged and has been with the firm ever since.

It was his intention to retire at the end of June, after completing 30 years' service with the firm, but unfortunately his last December necessitated his cessation of further activity at the Taikoo Works. Mr. McKirdy rose to the position of senior foreman in the Sugar Department and chief sugar boiler. Until 15 December, Mr. McKirdy had never been absent for a single day, on account of ill-health, but owing to heart trouble he has been compelled to leave the scene of his labours earlier than anticipated.

In his early days, Mr. McKirdy was a keen cyclist and from 1896-1900 was undisputed champion at all distances in events open to all comers, whether residents of the Colony or not. The popular tracks in those days were the Monopole, New Home and Centaur.

In great measure it was due to Mr. McKirdy's initiative that athletics were put upon a sound footing in the Colony and ever since his arrival here he has been one of the prime movers in furthering the efforts of the Victoria Recreation Club to encourage athletics in all forms.

As a token of appreciation of his good work in this direction, Mr. McKirdy was presented with a gold watch, suitably inscribed by the members of the Victoria Recreation Club.

THE PRESENTATION.

The presentation took place in the dining hall of the V.R.C. premises on Saturday evening, by H.E. Sir CLAUD SEVERN, Chairman of the Club, who said:

Mr. McKirdy—it gave me very great pleasure when I received a letter from the Secretary asking me to come here this evening to make this small presentation to you from the Committee and members of the Victoria Recreation Club on the occasion of your leaving the Colony. I am sure that we all in this Club very deeply regret that owing to ill-health you find it necessary to give up your work here and go home. During the last thirty years you have been one of its most faithful members who has done work at all times and in all departments of the Club which we have valued very much indeed. During the last few years you have acted as Secretary in the absence of Mr. Withell, and under your guidance the Club continued to progress. I was glad to hear this evening that in your earlier days you were a noted cyclist, and it may safely be said that you were the undisputed cycle champion of the Colony. (Applause.) It is our hope that when you get home you will be able to obtain the rest which will restore you entirely to good health. Your native country, of which I may claim also to be a native too, is a very cold one for the greater part of the year, and no doubt you will seek a place, at any rate for a time, where you can settle down in a warmer climate. The members of this Club exceedingly regret your departure, and only hope you will not forget us, and possibly, if your health permits, you will return to see us again. (Applause.) We wish you a very pleasant voyage and trust you will soon be restored to health.

The presentation was then made, Sir CLAUD also remarking on the tremendous assistance which he as Chairman, received from Mr. McKirdy.

MR. MCKIRDY REPLIES.

In returning thanks for the presentation, Mr. McKirdy said:

Your Excellency, Gentlemen of the V.R.C. and other members: I feel highly honoured at the presence of His Excellency here this evening and deeply grateful to him for the kind manner in which he has spoken of me.

"I do not propose to suggest that your kind presentation has come to me exactly as a surprise. I may say that, had I been allowed to leave you without being asked to meet you to say a last farewell, I should have felt slighted because, gentlemen, this Club has been very dear to me, more so than any institution in the Colony. It was the first Club I joined on arrival nearly 31 years ago. I can well remember taking part in the V.R.C. athletic meeting in 1895. Since then I have been identified with every feature of the Club's activities, and many of my happiest days have been spent in the pursuit of its various branches of sport.

"The Club honoured me in 1915 by making me a life member, a distinction which I prize very highly. I have acted as Hon. Secretary to the Club on two occasions during the absence of our Secretary, Mr. Withell, and as a member of committee for more years than I can remember.

"Although I have not quite seen eye-to-eye with Mr. Withell on all occasions we nevertheless part on worse terms than that account. My endeavours have always been directed to the betterment of the Club, in every direction and to the support of Mr. Withell in the very fine manner in which he has devoted himself to its affairs.

Proceedings ended with Sir CLAUD SEVERN calling for three cheers for Mr. McKirdy, which were heartily given.

CIVIL SERVICE CRICKET CLUB.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT THE ANNUAL DINNER.

The annual dinner of the Hongkong Civil Service Cricket Club was held on Saturday evening on the Roof Garden of the Hongkong Hotel, and proved a very successful and enjoyable function.

There was a company of about 80 present, and His Excellency, Sir CLAUD SEVERN, K.B.E. (President of the Club), presided. The official guests invited were: His Excellency Major-General C. C. Luard, the Hon. Mr. A. G. M. Fletcher, Mr. T. J. Gaistford-St. Lawrence, the Hon. Mr. B. T. Greasy, Mr. W. W. Hornell, C.I.E. (Vice-Chancellor of Hongkong University), the Hon. Mr. E. D. C. Wolfe and Mr. H. B. Phillips.

The President stated that letters, regretting inability to attend, had been received from several, among these being Messrs. C. D. Melbourne, J. R. Wood, E. B. Reed, Commodore A. J. B. Stirling, the Hon. Sir Henry Pollock and the Hon. Mr. R. H. Kotewall.

The arrangements for the dinner were carried out by the following committee: Messrs. J. H. B. Nibill (Chairman), F. L. Squibbs, P. Lambie, J. Deakin, A. Grimmit, B. Wood, R. S. Vergette (Hon. Secretary), and Maughan (Hon. Treasurer).

Following the honouring of the Loyal Toast, Mr. W. W. HORNELL proposed the principal toast of the evening that of the "Hongkong Civil Service Cricket Club" in a humorous speech. He said that he unfortunately did not play cricket, but it always was a dangerous game. When an elderly man tried to arrest the progress of a ball it either passed through his legs or slipped through his fingers; sometimes in trying to catch a ball it hit one on the nose. (Laughter.)

Speaking of the Club, Mr. Hornell said that it was twenty-two years old, and was creditable in itself. The second eleven had won the Junior League. Owing to the wet weather the afternoon's match had to be postponed, and the first eleven did not beat the Hongkong Cricket Club, thus completing a double.

Mr. Hornell, he understood that the practice of playing single-handed matches was now obsolete, which he personally regretted, as he would very much like to see such a game between His Excellency (Sir CLAUD SEVERN) and His Excellency (the Officer Commanding the Forces in China, or perhaps the Bishop. (Laughter). In conclusion Mr. Hornell asked those present to "bury your countenances in the ground, and you have and drink to the health of the Hongkong Civil Service Cricket Club."

The President, in responding to the toast said they were grateful to the Vice-Chancellor for the able way in which he had proposed the toast of the Club and congratulated the others on the cordial way in which they drank it. (Laughter.) Continuing, His Excellency said that they met under a sense of great disappointment because it had been his intention to present the trophies to the winners. He thanked the Committee for the trouble they had taken in arranging this annual dinner of the Civil Service Cricket Club. (Applause.)

The cricket teams had given a dazzling exhibition and the Club had to be congratulated on being a fine body of sportsmen. He congratulated Mr. Nibill on the way in which he had led the second eleven to victory. (Applause.) Thanks were also due to Mr. Best for the trouble he had taken in organising tennis, and to Mr. Robert Smith for attending to bowls. The Club was flourishing, and they were looking forward to the time when they would have a more satisfactory club house. It was wonderful how much was done in such small premises, and they were patient to wait until such time as they were offered an allotment on which to build a proper club. "Government never promises anything to anyone," said His Excellency, "and it was more satisfactory not to promise."

Commenting on Mr. Hornell's reference to cricket in the days of Jingle, His Excellency said that the Civil Service Cricket Club played cricket quite seriously. Cricket was a wonderful thing. There was a cricket club and they played cricket. When any of the men had been turned out of the second eleven, then they could take to other games. He hoped that the Club would continue to retain its position season after season. (Applause.)

The health of the visitors and guests was proposed by Mr. P. Lambie who made a happy little speech.

H.E. Major-General C. C. Luard responded.

An excellent programme was contributed by H.E. Sir CLAUD SEVERN, Capt. J. Macready, Mr. G. H. Piercy, Mr. O. Eager, and Mr. F. Mason.

REACHES HARBOUR AFTER MISHAP NEAR WAGLAN.

On enquiry of the Manager of the Java, China, Japan Line, last evening, the "Daily Press" was informed that the "Ostkert" had arrived safely in harbour, under her own steam, on Saturday evening.

The s.s. "Ostkert" of the Holland East Asia Line, went ashore at a point near Waglan, in the early hours of Saturday morning during the thick weather.

The tug "Henry Kewick" was sent to the spot to render assistance if required, but fortunately the Dutch vessel was not badly aground, and arrived, as stated, little the worse for the misadventure.

CANTON NEWS.

[FROM OUR CHINESE CORRESPONDENT.]

THE TAX ON KEROSENE.

As a protest against additional war tax on kerosene oil in Canton, dealers in this article have decided to suspend business. Wholesale oil merchants have already stopped transporting business; only the retailers are still supplying the goods to the consumers. By order of the War Funding Commission, a stamp tax of 20 cents is imposed on every can of five gallons of oil or fraction thereof. The dealers were notified on March 24th that the tax would be effective on April 1st. The American and the British Consular representatives in Canton are being asked to lodge a protest against the tax as being contrary to treaty provisions. Foreign governments have made similar protest against an extra levy on rubber, cement, aerated water, and other imported articles but without result.

UNDER FOREIGN FLAGS.

Chinese newspapers in Canton are lamenting the necessity of Chinese owned small steamers registering as foreign in order to avoid local military interference and confiscation under the pretext of commandeering same for troop transportation. In the 72 "Guilid Commercial Journal" recently, it was pointed out that since 1921, many newly built, Chinese owned vessels have registered as foreign. Before 1921, new foreign vessels registered with the Chinese Customs were: American 3, British 13, French 4, and Japanese 2. In 1921, they were American 4, British 1, French (A) 5; in 1922, American 4, British 1, French 12, Portuguese 3; in 1923, American 2, British 11, Danish 1, French 45, Japanese 2, Portuguese (B) 34; and in 1924, American 3, British (A) 28, Danish 1, French (A) 5, German 21, Italian 33, Japanese 3, Portuguese (B) 28, Spanish 6.

ATHLETICS.

According to a report issued by the Committee in charge of the recent 9th Canton Athletic Meeting the Canton Christian College, the students of which totalled more than 300 points, ranked first; Pui Ching Baptist Academy, 170 points, second; and Pui Ying, third; while for individual athletes, a Pui Ying student won five first and one second prizes and made a total of 28 points. The Pui Ying or Canton Union Middle School is an institution founded originally by the American Presbyterian Mission, but later taken over by the Church of Christ in China, a body of Chinese Christians not attached to any foreign missions.

FINED FOR ATTENDING A FEAST.

Two Canton officials, including a Judge, were fined $3,000 each for attending a feast on the evening of April 2nd, before the expiration of the 30 days' period of mourning, out of respect to the recent death of Dr. Sun Yat Sen. A staff officer of the 2nd Yunnanese Army, himself a Cantonese, it may be recalled, was fined $300,000 for trying to get married on March 18th, seven days after the death of Dr. Sun. This staff officer, Weng Yi Pao, was so heavily fined, because he is the present gambling king in the city. He did not have actually to pay the $300,000, however, as those connected with his arrest and trial finally agreed to let him off for $50,000.

SALARIES IN ARREAR.

Since November, 1923, the Canton City Department of Public Education has not received any appropriation from the public treasury. More than $500,000 is said to be due to the Department. The teachers of the city public school are now more than eight months without their pay. Unless relief is forthcoming, public schools in Canton City may have to be suspended again.

WEDDING.

WILSON-WILSON.

A pretty wedding took place at St. Andrew's Church, Kowloon, on Saturday afternoon, the contracting parties being Miss Jane Hutchison Wilson, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Wilson, of Edinburgh, and Mr. Robert Cecil Wilson, son of the late Mr. B. Wilson, and Mrs. Wilson, of Walthamstow, Essex.

THE BOXER INDEMNITY.

THE summarised accounts that we have seen of the debate on the second reading of the China Indemnity Bill in the House of Commons on March 3rd, lengthy though they are, make no reference to a few remarks that Mr. RAMSAY MACDONALD made in the course of his speech to the proposal that a part of this Indemnity money should be devoted to the construction of railways in China. No doubt the remarks are to be found in "Hansard," but this report is not yet available to us. Our knowledge of these remarks is derived from a sketch given of the debate in a Home paper by an interested spectator in which the following paragraph occurs:—

"When the ex-Premier turned to the question of building railways with these essentially British funds, his words were merely that there was a great deal to be said for the idea, but that when you go into the details, you find that you cannot do it, and that the load of conflicting troubles and complexities and negotiations which would have to precede and follow the floating of a railway proposition would be unbearable, and the proposal quite impracticable. What he had in his mind was that at Washington the Government had agreed that they would not seek, nor support, nor encourage any arrangement which might purport to establish any general superiority of rights with respect to economic development in China. He remembered that the Battle of the Concessions raged very largely round the question of railway building; that railways, and the peaceful penetration which they involve, are the precursors of rights, and that the Great Powers are agreed that the Battle shall not be renewed. It has been finally determined with regard to railway development in China, so far as foreign finance is concerned, that no advantage shall be sought by any one Power, but that the four co-operating Great Powers shall act on the principle of complete equality in every respect."

Although it is true the British Chambers of Commerce in the Far East were unanimous, several years ago, in recommending that the remitted portion of the Boxer Indemnity due to Great Britain should be used for the promotion of education among the Chinese on British lines, a good deal of doubt has been expressed since then regarding the wisdom of devoting the entire sum to this purpose. The terms of the Bill are that the money is to be devoted to purposes mutually beneficial to China and Great Britain. The Federation of British Industries has been pressing the view that it may on investigation be found that it is to the mutual benefit of the two countries that a certain proportion at any rate of the fund should be devoted to development work in China. This view has had the public support of Marshal TUAN CHI JUI, the Provisional Chief Executive of China, as well as of other prominent Chinese. Sir ROBERT HO TONG, who twenty-four years ago, advocated that all the Powers should agree to devote the proceeds of the Indemnity to railway construction in China, took the opportunity when he was in England last year to support this suggested application of part of the British Indemnity. The Tientsin Chamber of Commerce has also strongly advocated it. When we see every foreign country in receipt of Boxer Indemnity devoting it to introducing competing systems of foreign education in China the wisdom of it may well be doubted. But the idea of devoting the British portion to anything but education does not appear to have received much encouragement in the debate; though the House defeated an amendment moved from the Labour Benches to reject the Bill on the ground that it did not contain adequate guarantees that the money will be devoted primarily to educational purposes. "There were hon. members," said Mr. R. MCNEILL, the Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, "who preferred that the use of the money should be tied down to education purposes," but he reminded them that "there might, for instance, be medical purposes, and other things of that sort not strictly within the meaning of the term 'education' for which the money might be used." Mr. MCNEILL did not mention railways, which are certainly not without their educational influence in China. However, the precise allocation of the Fund would seem to be largely in the hands of the Advisory Committee appointed under the Bill. Meanwhile the allocation of the money to purely educational purposes is being strongly pressed. A memorial to the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, signed by 419 resident graduated members of the University of Oxford, the Vice-Chancellor and proctors, 21 heads of colleges or halls, 33 professors or readers, and the Public Orator, expresses the hope that the Fund will be allocated exclusively to educational and medical work in China. The memorialists record their belief that the assignment of the British share of the Fund to educational and medical work will most commend itself to permanently influential bodies of opinion in China, and that such a course, being in accord with the decision taken by the Governments of the United States and Japan, is calculated to secure most effectively friendly co-operation between British and Chinese in the furtherance of the welfare of China. We see that The Times on March 11th published a letter signed by CHU NAO, Ex-Civil Governor of the Province of Hunan; Ex-Commissioner for Foreign Affairs, Chungking, and C. Y. HAT, President, Chinese International Scientific Society; Secretary, Chinese National Committee, Y.M.C.A., in which they say:—"Throughout China the acquisition of a knowledge of Western customs and culture is a goal on which all eyes are fixed, and, moreover, this is the one object where Britain does not look to benefit directly. The alternative proposals, the development of inland communications and of medical services, while urgent needs of China, are nevertheless open to the second of the above objections. Again, neither of them is so desperately needed as education. The proposal to earmark a certain proportion towards the upkeep of Christian colleges is also open to grave suspicion on both the grounds, for a huge majority of the Chinese as yet are not Christians, nor are they likely to be influenced in favour of a compulsory levy for its dissemination. For these reasons, although Christians ourselves, we feel that it would be most detrimental to the effect produced in China by your magnanimous gift were you to make any alteration in the purposes for which the money is to be used. At the present moment, despite differences of culture and difficulties due to distance, public opinion in China is warmly in favour of Great Britain. Through the handling of this question you may either, as we said at the beginning, cement the friendship firmer still, or you may defeat your own purpose by introducing the wedge of discontent which might eventually drive us apart." The "wedge of discontent" would certainly be introduced if the Advisory Committee followed the advice given in this letter and refused assistance from the Fund to the Christian colleges, to which the Chinese are so greatly indebted for what knowledge of Western customs and culture they now possess. We can quite appreciate the point of view advanced by the writers of this letter, who describe themselves as Christians; but it seems to us that their letter can only serve to strengthen the case for the diversion of part of this money to purposes which do not come within the strict definition of the word "education."

LATEST CABLES.
[REUTERS' AGENCY.]FINANCIAL CRISIS.
ERRIOT IS PREDICTED
BY PRESS.

Paris, April 5th.
Erriot, like M. Poincaré, will all in consequence of the of any increased taxation as the idea underlying Press on the present solution of the crisis.

Monzie's entry into the Ministry has averted its defeat on the question when that is debated Senate, but the anti-clerical quarrel fading into the background in the gravity of the problem of saving the colossal floating debt, but resort to inflation.

Journal insists that M. De Monzie could not take undue advantage of the taxpayer.

Le Matin does not believe the Government will ever carry out the plan of a capital levy.

Le Gaulois is convinced that many Radicals will refuse directly to attack the rights of property; consequently the cabinet will be overthrown.

L'Humanité is of opinion that the fall of the Left Bloc is now certain.

EARLIER CABLES.

FISCAL MEASURES DROPPED.

Paris, April 3rd.
The fiscal measures recommended by M. Guescler including a fifty per cent. increase in the income tax, have been dropped.

The Government is resolutely opposed to any increase in the note circulation, but in order to provide the Treasury with the necessary funds probably the Government will ask the authority of parliament to introduce a capital levy, payments to be spread over ten years.

According to Le Temps, the proposed capital levy will be ten per cent. payable over a decade, with facilities for settlement in advance.

Impartial observers, however, anticipate an early political crisis, resulting in dissolution and fresh elections.

Le Temps confirms that M. Loucheur had declined the Finance Ministry leadership before M. De Monzie was accepted, as he disagreed with the Government's plans for dealing with the financial crisis.

THE NEW MINISTER.

M. De Monzie, the new Finance Minister, is a barrister aged 45, and a member of the radical group in the Senate known as the Gauche Démocratique.

He was the principal initiator of a resumption of relations with Russia, and is opposed to abolition of the Embassy at the Vatican.

It is reported that his acceptance of office was conditional on the Government's adopting a compromise whereby the charge d'affaires representing Alsace-Lorraine at the Vatican could care for the interests of the rest of France. This should strengthen the Government's position in the forthcoming debate on the Vatican question in the Senate, for if the Government had persisted in demanding a rupture with the Vatican it would probably have been defeated.

On the other hand, if the Government yields to the Socialist demand for a capital levy and the Senate throw out the measure, the Government would be faced with the dilemma of resigning or dissolving Parliament and appealing to the country.

M. De Monzie has confirmed that the Government has accepted the compromise as regards the Vatican.

THE PREMIER SPEAKS.

In the Chamber, M. Herriot refused to make a statement on M. Clementel's resignation this afternoon, and obtained an adjournment sine die of the interpellation, which was made a question of confidence, only the Communists opposing. He foreboded a Bill embodying reform to set the country's finances on their feet.

Ironical Opposition laughter greeted his opinion that this alone could ensure the revalorization of the franc and a fall in the cost of living. The Chamber was adjourned until Tuesday.

M. Herriot, speaking at a party meeting later, said the principle governing the elaboration of the Government's schemes consisted principally of a sort of capital levy, which would more particularly affect acquired wealth, while avoiding interfering with wealth in the course of formation.

Welcoming the delegates, Mr. Baldwin said that their work was all in favour of peace. Aviation had been christened in blood; but, judging by the past work of the Commission, they would finally earn the world's gratitude as contributors to world peace.

In the evening, the delegates had dinner, as guests of the Government, the Under-Secretary of State for Air, Sir Philip Sassoon, presiding.

BELGIAN ELECTIONS.

RECORD NUMBER OF LISTS
PREPARED.

BRUSSELS, April 4th.
A record number of electoral lists has been prepared for the general election to the Senate and Chamber to be held tomorrow.

The Communists will contest every constituency, but the ex-servicemen have completely dropped out of the elections, which was decreed two months before the normal time. Owing to a parliamentary deadlock, the elections will be fought on a proportional representation with compulsory polling. Women are not enfranchised, except those sentenced by German courts for political patriotic activity in wartime. They number 10,000.

Hitherto the campaign has been very quiet not indicating the fate of the present Catholic and Liberal coalition, headed by the partyless and seatless M. Theunis.

Nine persons were killed and 58 injured in the disaster at Stinnes colliery.

INTERNATIONAL SOCCER.

SCOTLAND DEFEAT ENGLAND IN CHAMPIONSHIP.

London, April 4th.

At Glasgow to-day, in bright weather and before an attendance of nearly 100,000, Scotland beat England by goals to none, thus winning the international association football championship.

The play was fast; but, except on the left wing, neither attack combined effectively.

All the halves were quick on the ball throughout the game.

Towards the interval, Scotland played up splendidly, all the forwards showing to advantage. In some loose play, Giffacher scored, with a grand shot, for Scotland, who led by 1-0 at half-time.

After the resumption, Scotland continued to play the better football and England's halves were kept busy checking the clever Scottish forwards.

Three minutes from the end of the game, Gallacher scored another point for Scotland, who thus won by 2 goals to nothing.

MALABAR HILL CASE.

PROSECUTION PRODUCE FORMER STATEMENTS OF ACCUSED.

BOMBAY, April 3rd.
A new turn to the Malabar Hill case was taken when the witness Phanse's statement to the Bombay police at Indore was read out, in which Mumtaz is alleged to have told Phanse that she was willing to return to Indore as she was not so comfortable with Bawla.

Phanse denied that the Maharaja of Indore had spoken to him regarding Mumtaz.

OTHER STATEMENTS.

BOMBAY, April 4th.
The prosecution put in statements by the other accused, most of whom pleaded an alibi. They stated they could prove they were in Indore at the time of the crime.

Phanse's statement said Mumtaz represented she was being retained by Bawla at the pistol point. He had personal reasons for desiring to inform the Maharajah, Phanse added, that Mumtaz was not considered the Maharani at Indore and not received with family honours.

Sharma, the finance secretary at Indore, who, on the night of January 19th, telegraphed to Atmaram Singh, the Maharajah's A.D.C., reporting the crime, stated in evidence that he heard of the affair accidentally while visiting Bombay. He proceeded to verify the report, then wired because he thought the information would be welcome at Indore. He was asked what he meant by writing in the telegram "inform proper quarters;" and replied that this referred to the persons reported wounded and arrested.

BY MR. DAS.

PATNA, April 3rd.
A conciliatory speech was made by Mr. Das in response to Lord Birkenhead's statement in the House of Lords on March 30th, which he described as frank and courteous.

Mr. Das agreed that freedom would not be reached by violence, and said he was anxious to carry on active propaganda against an evil which was a standing menace to the establishment of Swaraj. "At the same time all efforts thither would not be effective unless the Government created a favourable atmosphere. Mr. Das criticised the Bengal Ordinance, and invited Lord Birkenhead searching to inquire into the causes of the revolutionary movement in India, and thereafter apply the proper remedy. He asserted that the revolutionary movement would disappear when the Government laid the foundation of freedom of thought and a favourable atmosphere was created "for further discussion," but he was unable to co-operate with the Government in its present policy of repression.

The conference was the result of a suggestion of the special committee of the Federation of Master Cotton Spinners, who pointed out that the spinners and weavers had borne the heaviest share of the losses amounting to millions sterling and the time had arrived when the subsidiary trades should co-operate to reduce costs of production and help bring Lancashire yarn and cloth again within the reach of the poor populations of tropical countries.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4th.
Ten of the defendants in the case against the steamer Quadra, mentioned on March 18th, have been found guilty of conspiracy to violate the U.S.A. prohibition laws. Thirty-two members of the crew were acquitted.

[A cable, dated March 18th, stated that the seizure of the Canadian steamer Quadra in November, outside the Golden Gate, on a charge of liquor smuggling, was held to have been lawful, by the District Court Judge, Mr. Partridge, who over-ruled the defence's contention that nothing in the Anglo-American liquor treaty entitled the United States to seize British subjects beyond the three mile limit, even though they were within twelve miles of the coast. It was alleged that the Quadra was carrying a half a million dollars' worth of liquor. The ruling naturally affects the sixty officers and men, who are mostly British Columbians, forming the crew.]

A COSTER'S WATTEAU.

WORKMAN'S GIFT TO THE NATION.

Mr. W. Rodgie, a perambulator mender, who lives at Kentish Town, London, N., was rummaging among odds and ends on a hawker's barrow at Chalk Farm, N., some time ago, when he came on a bundle of pictures, which he bought for about two shillings.

This cheap and not very promising bundle contained two pictures which are now in the British Museum. One was a red and white chalk drawing of a fiddler, by Antoine Watteau, and has since been valued at £100; the other is a boy's head by Boucher.

Mr. Rodgie presented the first to the British Museum as a gift, and the second was bought from him by the Museum authorities at a much greater price than he gave for it.

Mr. Rodgie related the story of his find to a Daily Express representative. "I have worked at my trade ever since I was a boy," he said, "and have not had many shillings to spare. On more than one occasion I have sent prints and pictures to the British Museum. Some of them have been worthless, and Mr. Campbell Dodgson, keeper of the print department, has told me so."

"After my first success, however, I was inspired to continue my collecting in a small way. I have come upon other things of interest, which I have sent to other art galleries and museums." He displayed a letter from the Bodleian Library, accepting an engraved print of Descartes, and letters from other important art institutions.

"I am making a speciality of collecting Baxter colour prints at present, and have a good assortment. Some I have sold at a slight profit; others I am keeping. Half an hour in the evenings, and Saturday afternoons are all the time that I can give to my collecting. It is my ambition, however, when I can no longer work at my trade, to have a little shop and make my hobby support me."

DUNLOP RUBBER COMPANY.

ENORMOUS EXPANSION IN HOME
AND EXPORT TRADE.

London, April 3rd.
Presiding at the general meeting of Dunlop's, Sir Eric Geddes announced the payment of a dividend on three classes of preference shares. The dividend was being passed on ordinary shares with a view to accumulating substantial reserves.

He recorded enormous expansion in the home and export trade.

The company was not yet entirely on its feet but he hoped this was the last year shareholders would be asked to make a sacrifice.

He announced that he would visit Malacca this year to inquire into matters affecting the estates.

He said the result of the restriction of the rubber output was that the only countries where development could occur were those not under the British flag. It seemed most unfair that they should be denied the right to bring home rubber while they were obliged to buy largely from another nation.

Restriction admittedly was temporary but the whole question should be again investigated unless the development of new areas was left entirely to the Dutch Indies and elsewhere.

FOOCHOW FISH BOYCOTT.

SERIOUS DEVELOPMENT OWING TO STUDENT AGITATORS.

PEKING, April 4th.

The latest telegrams from Foochow indicate serious developments in connection with the fish boycott. On March 21st, the Police arrested two student agitators, both of whom are said to have taken an active part in the recent disturbances.

The students accused Governor Sah Chen Ping of blindly obeying the American request to arrest the ringleaders. The American Legation states, in this connection, that it has not asked for arrest, but merely for protection.

The students attempted to organize a demonstration on April 1st. About 500 of them rushed Governor Sah Chen Ping's yamen, and demanded the instant release of those arrested.

When Governor Sah Chen Ping flatly refused to comply they held a mass meeting, outside the Provincial Assembly, and passed a resolution, calling for Sah Chen Ping's resignation of the Civil Government.

Apprehension is felt at Foochow as to how the movement will develop.

For Good Health
in Hot Climates
—take Sanatogen.

A chain is only as strong as its weakest link. In a hot climate the weak link in a man's Health is either his stomach, his nerves, or his blood. Each complaint renders him more liable to other complaints, so leading towards general debility.

Conquer that hot-climate debility with Sanatogen.

Step out of that vicious circle of exhaustion, "nerviness," and fevers, by building up your health and nerve strength.

Sanatogen infuses into the blood the very elements—phosphorus and albumin—which are vitally necessary. Sanatogen increases the quantity of red blood corpuscles, builds up strong nerves, and invigorates the whole system. The weakest stomach can easily digest it.

That great medical paper, "The Lancet" writes:
"There is abundant evidence of the value of Sanatogen as a restorative and food, and more particularly in cases of general debility."

Start taking Sanatogen to-day. It will give you better Nerves and better Health and thus a better Life.

PENNY POSTAGE. PRINTING TRADE AND ITS RESTORATION.

The Postmaster-General (Sir William Mitchell-Thompson) recently received a deputation from the Joint Industrial Council of the Printing and Allied Trades, who waited upon him to urge the claim of the business community generally that there should be an early restoration of the penny letter post and the halfpenny rate for post-cards. They also pointed out that the suggested reduction in postal rates would alleviate existing unemployment in the printing and papermaking industries.

PROCEEDINGS PRIVATE.

The proceedings were private, but the following report was afterwards issued:—
Mr. George A. Isaacs, president of the council, who introduced the deputation, said the restoration of the "printed matter" postal rates had proved of great value to the industry, but the confusion that existed, not only in the public mind but among printers and postal officials, as to what constituted "printed matter" was a constant source of irritation, and the cost of examining and surcharging packages must be considerably increased. Advertisers would prefer to use closed envelopes for advertising purposes, and a considerable proportion of the circulars which were now issued at the halfpenny "printed matter" rate would be sent in closed envelopes at the cost of a penny if the penny postage were restored.

PRESENT POSTAL ANOMALIES.

Lieutenant-Colonel A. Rivers Fletcher, vice-president of the Federation of Master Printers, said the most valuable concession which the Post Office could make to industry at the present time would be the re-instatement of the letter rate of 40s. for a penny, which would remove many of the present postal anomalies and the trouble occasioned by "trip" envelopes. As showing the confusion caused by existing postal regulations, he stated that his own firm had received, last month 1,106 letters and post-cards which were insufficiently stamped.

Mr. H. Chalk gave figures showing the falling off in the quantity of post-cards sold by the large publishing houses and the reduction in the number of publications sent by post since the postal rates were increased.

Mr. E. H. Dennis stated that the picture post-card manufacturers in this country had been able to meet German competition by adopting mass production methods, but increased postal rates had resulted in a decrease in sales, with the result that there had been unemployment among artists, blockmakers and printers.

"PRINTED MATTER."

Mr. A. E. Goodwin, joint secretary of the Federation referred to the anomalies which had been created by the discontinuance of the sample post. The "printed matter" rates in the Colonies and foreign countries were considerably lower than the corresponding rates in this country. One large firm had written him to the effect that they had reduced their printing orders by 50 per cent., and letters had reached him from every part of the country supporting the contention of the Federation that a reduction of postal rates would stimulate the whole trade and commerce of the country. The official printers of the British Empire Exhibition had sold several millions of picture post-cards, but a large number of these had not been posted. It would be of great advantage if picture post-cards of Wembley could be more freely distributed, and the halfpenny post would undoubtedly help in this direction.

The Postmaster-General, replying to the deputation, said that although a number of questions had been dealt with, they all came back to the main point, namely, a reduction in the postal rates, and it must be obvious to everybody that any reduction would cost something. He asked the deputation which of the reforms referred to they considered the first and most desirable.

Mr. Isaacs replied that the deputation was unanimously of opinion that the re-introduction of the penny post and the halfpenny post-card rate were the most important.

COMMITMENTS INCREASING.

The Postmaster-General, proceeding, said it was true that there had been a satisfactory surplus this year, although it was not as large as they might have expected. They had, however, to consider the fact that their commitments were increasing and that they had to face a considerable capital expenditure to provide for the expansion of the telephone service. In any direction in which they approached the question of postal reform they would need to go step by step. It had been urged that the Post Office accounts should be treated as a separate unit, and there was certainly a good deal to be said for that point of view. At the same time, they must realize that at present the Post Office accounts were part and parcel of the financial arrangements of the country in general, and, therefore, they could not expect him to anticipate the Budget statement; but he undertook to convey the views of the deputation. He did not think that it would be possible to institute special rates for picture post-cards only, but the question of reverting to a halfpenny post-card rate would certainly also receive consideration. With regard to the sample post, he could not offer any hope of immediate action, and with reference to "trip" envelopes, the report from the officials was to the effect that the adoption by many firms of the character of envelopes defined in the Post Office circular had led to considerable improvement.
